

Sister Grace Noël Gleichauf – 75 Years

“I was born into a large Catholic family, and my mother and dad taught the 10 of us our prayers long before we went to school,” says Sister Grace Noël Gleichauf. “I truly believe my call to religious life came as early as first grade.

“As a Sister I taught young children in Catholic elementary schools for 17 years (St. Anthony of Padua, Corpus Christi, St. Stephen, St. Bridget). My next assignment was St. Joseph’s Villa where I worked in purchasing and as a cottage relief mother. Following this, I was on the staff of our Prayer Center while having the privilege of being a Eucharistic minister at Highland Hospital. I returned to education, teaching religion at Immaculate Conception School in Ithaca, NY. In 1998 I became the Sacristan at the Sisters of Saint Joseph Motherhouse and since 2010 have worked in a variety of Congregational Services.

“All my days have been filled with blessings and graces, and for this I am most grateful.”
