

Sister Dolores Anne Huether

As a former business teacher, Sister Dolores Anne Huether said she was proud of having taught so many children the necessary skills for employment. During her 75th Jubilee celebration in 2018, Sister Dolores Anne credited her assignment as a secretary at St. Joseph's Hospital for giving her the background to be an effective teacher. "I loved being assigned to St. Joseph's Hospital in Elmira," she said. "I also enjoyed my years at Mt. Carmel High School in Auburn where I taught business to both boys and girls." Sister also taught at St. Patrick in Dansville, and St. Joseph's Villa and Nazareth Academy in Rochester.

While reflecting on her 75th Jubilee, Sister said she had learned to laugh a lot and be flexible. "I have received many blessings from living in community with the Sister." She added that another facet of her gratitude came from "sharing life with my nieces and nephews – a mix of many blessings, sorrows, and joys." Sister was most recently involved in the prayer ministry.
