

Sister Patricia Sullivan (formerly Sister Conchita) – 60 Years

Sister Patricia Sullivan, formerly Sister Conchita, is manager of the Sisters of Saint Joseph Gift Shop. Sister Patricia finds meaningful religious articles, cards, and gifts for the whole family to include in the shop. When present in the Gift Shop, she relates to customers who often tell their stories, expressing their need for prayers from the Sisters.

Before this ministry, she taught in elementary schools in Rochester, St. Agnes High School, Nazareth Academy, as well as De Sales High School in Geneva. Sister's home parish is Holy Rosary in Rochester.

“Having been educated by the Sisters of Saint Joseph in elementary and high school, I was touched by the kindness and care of these women. Before entering the Congregation, I turned to my kindergarten teacher for guidance.

“My commitment to the Sisters of Saint Joseph is sustained through prayer, the support of my Sisters with whom I live, and the many persons who have touched my life: colleagues and friends.”
